What would you think of a salesman who reported for duty one day, lay off for two, worked a half day, sent off for a week and so on without any regularity? Surely you would not expect good service from such a man. And yet some merchants hold advertising, which is simply a "salesman," up to grate results when it is allowed to "work" very irregulary.

The fact that advertising costs money is proof of its value.
Things without cost are usually worth only their price.
